

www.insightsfromspirit.com

Getting the Message across to People

By Estelle Roberts 2012

We tend to talk a lot sometimes just to hear our own voice. I mean that's the only reason I come you know because I like to hear my voice (Estelle was joking and was laughing as she spoke) because I haven't heard it for so long. It's the only time I get to hear it you know because obviously when we're here we don't speak do we? Must be very quiet mustn't it if we never speak. I don't know if you've ever thought of that but because we communicate through the power of thought it's just as noisy though because it's no different to you speaking except you're doing it through thought.

If you went to the Halls of Learning do you get voice?

No you get the full picture.

With sound?

Yes you get the full 3-D effect but it's not done verbally, it's all done in the mind.

There is no actual sound?

No it's thought transfer. I mean it's the same thing when you go into the Halls of Learning and you go to the lectures. Sometimes when the lecturer is talking to the various levels of vibration he has to communicate to the form of the lowest vibration and therefore if the form of the lowest vibration can only understand by verbal means then that is the way he conducts the teaching because everybody else can pick it up if they have advanced further. It's the old story. It's a little bit like your computer programmers isn't it? When you're further up you can talk to the people down below but if you've come down below you can't talk to the one further up can you? It would be nice if you could communicate with the whole lot wouldn't it.

Yes it would make life simpler sometimes.

We like to keep you in essence so you understand things on a personal basis and that's why when we are talking to different groups we tend to look at their auras and try and communicate in a way that is important to them. Something which they can understand because if we do that then the teachings go in better don't they?

You can relate to it.

Yes because there's no point in telling you about the teachings of the Dalai Lama, or the Prophet Muhammad, or the Prophet Buddha if it is outside your sense of understanding.

Or interest.

Yes. Why you wouldn't be interested I don't know because they are all great teachers. Just because people misread and misunderstand and misinterpret the teachings doesn't mean that the teachings are wrong. It's the people who are wrong isn't it?

Their understanding of it.

Their misunderstanding because if they understood they wouldn't do it would they dear girl but that's true isn't it? It's because we misunderstand things. I mean it's no different in our Spiritualist movement is it? Well there's a lot of whoo ha goes around in the Spiritual movement. You know there's a lot of would be's if they could be. Well there is, isn't there, and there is a lot of people going round saying they can do things which they can't and then they want to be so important don't they. A lot of people who do the clairaudience they think ooh aren't I clever! But what are they doing? All they are doing is listening to what's being told and repeating it. I mean it's not really clever at all is it?

They think it is.

But it isn't because all you are doing... It would be no different if you had a telephone to your ear and you are just repeating what was being said. The only thing that is clever is that they have opened up the portal for communication. Well for that we'll give them a gold star but the actual communication is nothing to be proud of because it is merely what they have been told. I did it often enough didn't I? I went there and people used ask me questions and I would look all very important and very knowledgeable because the answers would just flow, but I had no idea did I! How could I accept any accolade because it wasn't from me. All I was doing is being the instrument. That sounds a bit crass doesn't it? I was being used.

Utilised.

Oh I like that because use sounds so gross.

It doesn't have a nice ring to it.

No, but I like utilised. Thank you You see you can add a little bit of knowledge to us too.

No actually it was told before. I just remember it.

Oh you mean somebody else much wiser than me said it before?

Well it could have been even Maurice.

Don't tell me that! It'll just go to his head dear girl. And he's got a big enough head. He thinks he has some sort of claim just because he's become the second fiddle to Henry (Roy's guide) he thinks he's got some sort of claim on this physical body and I told him well you pushed for me to come to your group, well he didn't actually, it was Red Cloud but I'll blame him anyway because he asked Red Cloud so therefore in a certain way I can blame him. He asked me to come here so therefore if I come and I want to be heard more often than him, he's only got himself to blame hasn't he?

Before we come to a group such as this we try to get into some of the colloquial sayings. Well it makes people feel important you see if you can talk in the same lingo as they do. If we were talking all the time as we did when I was on the Earth Plane people would just not understand us in the same way because we were really quite proper you see and I wasn't really proper at all. I mean I had to be when I, when you go to the groups and things because they all expect things don't they?

Well what's wrong with being proper? I think it's nice being proper.

Yes but people don't always understand. They don't relate and it is important that we give our talks in a manner that is easily understood.

*Estelle Roberts
20 November 2012*